Re: Engagement - Brightfield Converting, Inc. demand for arbitration
Matter 2025-014 (Brightfield Converting v. Tidewell)

Dear Nadia:

Brightfield Converting, Inc., a former cup-stock supplier, has filed a demand for arbitration with the Coastal Dispute Resolution Center claiming $412,000 for an alleged minimum-purchase shortfall under a 2021 supply agreement that expired in December 2023. The Company disputes the claim. This letter confirms that we will defend the Company in the arbitration as Matter 2025-014 (Brightfield Converting v. Tidewell).

Our engagement runs through the issuance of a final award and any motion to confirm or vacate it. Fees are billed monthly in arrears at our hourly rates ($495 partner, $310 associate, $165 paralegal), plus the Company's share of tribunal fees. This matter is separate from, and is not covered by, the Matter 100 general counsel fee.

Very truly yours,

BRANNOCK & VAIL LLP
